T. R. Cutler, Jr., superintendent of the Waverly Beet Sugar Co., and family returned home last evening from Waverly, Washington. Under Mr. Cut. ler's superintendency with the assist-ance of a number of Utah boys, that factory during the campaign just closed made the best record ever made since its erection, in fact up until this season it has been operated at a loss, but notwithstanding it is a very small mill, the Utah boys sacked out of 15,000 tons of beets, 3,700,000 pounds of white granu-lated sugar, which more than pleased the owners of the factory and Mr. Cut-ler has been employed for another sea-son, and will return to Waverly soon after the holidays.

Agricultural Supt. Geo. Austin and wife also returned home from California late Friday evening last. Mr. Austin has been visiting the beet sugar factories of the coast with a view of ascertaining the best and most economical methods of handling the crop, and he says in many ways they are ahead of Utah in the manner of transportation and handling of the beets expediously, however the Utah Sugar company in the erection of the new plant in the Bear River valley this oming season, will adopt the latest and most approved methods now in vogue for the handling of the beets and will also make a great many changes at the Lehi factory which will very materthe Lehi factory which will very materially aid the farmers in unloading their beets a great deal easier and quicker than the present way of handling the business. BUTTA, MONTANA. UTAH WITNESS WANTED. McDonald of Park City to Testify in Bullion Case.

Special Correspondence. Butte, Mont., Dec. M.—The case of John Boyd, who is charged with having committed the famous steal of bullion from the Bi-Metallic mills at Philipsburg two years ago, has been contain-ued because of the absence of Alex J. McDonald, the most important witness of the defense. In an affidavit it is asserted that McDonald is now in Park City, Utah, and can be had at the next term of court.

Boyd's affidavit declares that McDonald was in charge of the bullion at the time it was alleged the theft was committed. About $8,000 worth of silver bullion was stolen.

This case has been one of the most expensive in the county's history. At the time trial was first called it was found that the state's star witness, Allen Mayby, had jumped his $1,000 bonds and disappeared, together with the instrument. He was recently cap-tured in the Shoshone mountains, Idaho, and the case again taken up. It is said a change of venue will be asked.

all day Christmas if you want to. Just buy some of Kolitz famous Candy for the children—they all like it and will never forget your kindness. Their Christmas wouldn't be complete without it. And then you know, you like it yourself, and that is another very good reason why you ought to buy some. Have it put up in a fancy box or pretty basket.
